

CAN WIN WAR NEXT YEAR, HOOVER SAYS

U. S. Must Ship More Meat, Bread, Sugar and Other Essentials.

ALLIED FOOD SCANT

Entente Powers Deny Selves to Insure Landing of More Troops.

Every man, woman, and child in the United States should test every action every day and every hour by the one touchstone—does this or that contribute to the winning of the war? If this is done Germany can be beaten with the great Allied campaign of the summer of 1919, Herbert Hoover says in a communication today to F. B. Mumford, federal food administrator for Missouri. Before next summer there is no prospect of a proper ending of the war, he said.

To attain victory and "bring this dreadful business to an end" the following must be accomplished, Hoover stated:

More than 3½ million fighting Yankees must be placed in France; we must supply the greatest mechanical equipment ever given an army; we must provide ships for our army and to do this, cut down imports of sugar, coffee and tropical fruits; and we must keep the Allied population in ample food by shipping this year 1,950,000 tons more meats, fats, dairy products, etc., than last year, 3,600,000 tons more breadstuffs, 330,000 tons more sugar and ¼ million tons more feed grain.

Save Food and Lives.

Every family in the United States must study its food budget, he said, to see if it cannot buy less, serve less, return nothing to the kitchen and practice the gospel of the clean plate. If all these things are done and the war ends in 1919 we will save the lives of thousands of Americans that will be expended if we have to continue until 1920, Mr. Hoover declared.

"To give the final blow in 1919 we must not only find the men, ships and equipment for this gigantic army, but the Allied armies and the Allied civil population must have ample food in the meantime if we are to maintain their strength," Mr. Hoover's statement said.

"The food program is no small part of this issue. To provide ships for our army we not only have to build all that we can, but we must have the help of Allied shipping. In order that the Allies may provide this, they must take food ships from the more distant markets and place them on the shorter run to the United States. Under these conditions the demand upon us is for larger supplies," according to Hoover.

17,550,000 Tons of Food.

Mr. Hoover said that inter-Allied conferences on the food supply and shipping have estimated that America, during the year ending July 1, 1919, must ship a total of 2,600,000 tons of meats and fats; 10,400,000 tons of breadstuffs; 1,850,000 tons of sugar and 2,700,000 tons of feed grain—a grand total of 17,550,000 tons of foodstuffs. Despite this program further self-denial must and will be practiced by the Allies next year in the common cause, Mr. Hoover asserted.

"At the President's direction I have assured them we eat at a common table, and upon entering conferences in Europe we promised them that whatever their food program calls for from us, we should fulfill. The Allied table will be less than ours, for the Allied peoples are denying themselves more in order to transport our soldiers, and we can do no less than fill the ships they send us."

Mr. Hoover urges for next year close conservation in sugar, no "over brew" of coffee and a slight reduction in the use of breadstuffs, meats and fats, although emphasizing there must be no curtailment in the use of milk for children.

"AVOID AN EPIDEMIC"

Prof. and Mrs. O. M. Stewart have received no further information in regard to the condition of their son, Lawrence, who is seriously ill of Spanish influenza and pneumonia at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station.

Captain F. H. Coester, who is in charge of Saturday's Liberty Loan parade, asked this morning that the spectators keep scattered and not crowd together. He said that the line of parade had been made long enough to enable all spectators to keep from direct contact with each other. He also urges that all keep on the sidewalk and out of the gutters and otherwise observe the customs of a military parade. By so doing no military police will be needed to keep back the crowd.

There was quite a bit of confusion this morning concerning a sign posted on the military bulletin board in the basement of Academic Hall, which said that all classes of the S. A. T. C. were discontinued until further notice. This does not concern University students and they will attend classes, according to Captain W. O. Hill.

R. D. Spradling warrant mechanic of the United States Navy, has organized the naval section of the S. A. T. C. here. For the present it will be under the command of W. S. Ridge of the U. S. N. It was announced this morning that the quota was closed.

It is expected that the uniforms of the students inducted into the S. A. T. C. will arrive the last of the week. Military authorities hope to have the men clothed in khaki as soon as possible after their induction October 1.

Second Lieutenants C. A. Helm, Arthur L. Johnson, Lowell N. Johnson, Charles M. Johnston, Rudolph F. Joop, H. H. Judson, C. L. Junge who received their commissions at Fort Sheridan have arrived to be assigned with the S. A. T. C. unit here. Several more lieutenants have been assigned to report for duty here but have not been reported. Second Lieutenant Charles K. Jones is expected to arrive this afternoon.

Women Students Cannot Leave Town.

Because of the danger of contracting Spanish influenza on the trains, the University Health Service has asked that women as well as men be forbidden to leave Columbia this week end. For this reason Miss Eva Johnston, adviser for women, will be obliged to recall all out-of-town excursions.
